Date & Time	Fact Text	Source(s)
To Be Determined	[redacted] advised that he did not work with the following detainees: ISN #'s, 63; 682; 760; or 569. [redacted] explained that 760 is a "special project" so there would be no reason for him to work on that detainee's file.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.2
To Be Determined	[redacted] explained that usually when detainees are interrogated there is one interrogator in the room with the detainee and one analyst in the observation booth. Sometimes however, the analyst with sit in the interrogation room with the interrogator.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.2
To Be Determined	[redacted] says that at U.S. Naval Base Guantanamo Bay, Cuba there are lists of detainees that are on "hold" by the different agencies. For example, the Federal Bureau of Investigation would put a detainee on hold to investigate any U.S. connections, financial angles, to pursue leads sent to them from other offices, etc. [redacted] speculated that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is doing counter-terrorism work and intelligence collection here at U.S. Naval Base Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.2
To Be Determined	[redacted] said that he has never seen an Federal Bureau of Investigation Agent involved with a "fear up" type interrogation. Similarly, [redacted] has never seen any Federal Bureau of Investigation folks involved with any of the interrogation techniques outlined in the A - X Memo.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.2 & 3
To Be Determined	[redacted] has never had to report any abuse of the detainees while he has been at U.S. Naval Base Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. If he did witness something that was abusive he would report it to the Interrogation Control Element Ops, then the Interrogation Control Element Chief, then to the Joint Interrogation Group.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.3
To Be Determined	[redacted] said that the only complaints with the Federal Bureau of Investigation are the almost complete lack of coordination with Department of Defense elements, i.e. the Tiger Teams. This sometimes can cause some discord with the detainees.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.3

To Be Determined	[redacted] advised that usually the Federal Bureau of Investigation sessions with detainees are very short. It seems that usually the Agents are just trying to collect certain specific pieces of information. This is in opposition to how the Department of Defense approaches the detainees, which [redacted] describes as more long term.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.3
To Be Determined	[redacted] believes that the Frequent Flyer Program began sometime in 2003. I was designed to disorient the detainee so that he could not receive support from his fellow detainees.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.3
To Be Determined	[redacted] advised that as he understood it an interrogator had to first write up an interrogation plan for a detainee and provide a justification using the Frequent Flyer Program. [redacted] thinks that detainees on the Frequent Flyer Program were moved every couple of hours over the course of a couple of days. He knows that this occurred during the day, but he is not sure if the movements continued during the night. [redacted] also knows that the Frequent Flyer Program did not interrupt meal times or prayer time.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.3
To Be Determined	[redacted] thinks that there is a rule in the Frequent Flyer Program that you have to provide a detainee at least 4 hours of uninterrupted sleep each day, and that you could only move them for a maximum of 16 hours before providing them rest. [redacted] has never seen any written rules with regard to this program but he is pretty sure that there something in writing on this.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.3
To Be Determined	[redacted] thinks that every time the Joint Detainee Operations Group moves a detainee they keep a record of it. These movements should be recorded in the Detainee Management System, or DMS.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.4
02/??/2003 - 04/??/2005	[redacted] has never heard of Federal Bureau of Investigation agents using the Frequent Flyer Program.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.4
??/??/2004	[redacted] thinks that sometime in early 2004 the Joint Detainee Operations Group said that they could no longer implement the Frequent Flyer Program.	[redacted] Interview 1 @pp.4
Wed 04/27/2005	[redacted] advised that he is the Interrogation Control Element Senior Analyst. He works directly for the Interrogation Control Element Chief [redacted] who reports to [redacted] [redacted] works closely with [redacted] the Joint Interrogation Group Senior Analyst, to coordinate all things analytical.
