

It's Not Fair.

Moms all across America want their children to receive a good college education and to lead a happy and successful life.

That is all Karen Garrison wanted for her sons Lamont and Lawrence.

Her two boys received that college degree. But excessive mandatory sentences sent them to prison for nearly two decades for a non-violent crack cocaine offense.

IT'S NOT FAIR. IT'S NOT WORKING.

End Crack and Powder Cocaine Sentencing Disparities.

CONGRESS IS CONSIDERING REFORM NOW!

For more information about the sentencing disparity between crack and powder cocaine go to www.sentencingproject.org/crackreform or call 202-628-0871.

