

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS
ACLU v. DoD
REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B26	Email and Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	GTMO	Email 14-Jul-04 Statm't 17-Jul-04	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and thus to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 34 from the Schmidt-Furrow Report. This is a corrected entry substituting for the previous entry at the end of Section 1 of this index.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS
 ACLU v. DoD
 REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B27	Memo and attached schedule	N/A	N/A	Memo	26-Mar-02	Exemption One This document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. It contains detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including specific interrogation techniques and information concerning the plan relating to this detainee. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and thus to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 35 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B28	Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Summarized Witness Statement	20-Jan-05	All information redacted from this document is withheld to protect identities under exemptions 6 and 7(c).	Exhibit 36 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.
B29	Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Summarized Witness Statement	9-Feb-05	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and thus to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 37 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B30	Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Summarized Witness Statement	21-Jan-05	Exemption 5 Two privileges apply: Deliberative process: This document contains discussion of the substance of internal deliberations on interrogation policy. This discussion is both predecisional and deliberative because it contains: (1) preliminary opinions which do not reflect DoD's final views, and are therefore pre-decisional; and (2) observations, opinions, and advice with regard to formulation of policy on the treatment of detainees. Disclosure of any of this deliberative information is likely to chill full, frank, and open internal discussions. Attorney-client: This document contains communications between client and counsel on a matter in which the client sought legal advice. The communications were made on the understanding that they would remain confidential.	Exhibit 38 from the Schmidt-Furrow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B31	Email and Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Email: GTMO	12-Jul-04	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain information concerning detainee interrogations and policy, revealing intelligence sources and methods. Release of this information concerning interrogations would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover information regarding the interview process and so to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 39 from the Schmidt-Furrow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B32	Memo	Commander Joint Task Force160	N/A	Interrogation Plan	None given	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning the plan for interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and the assessment and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 40 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS
ACLU v. DoD
REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B33	Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Summarized Witness Statement	20-Jan-05	All information redacted from this document is withheld to protect identities under exemptions 6 and 7(c).	Exhibit 41 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.
B34	Chart	N/A	N/A	Interrogation Level Timeline	None stated	Exemption One This document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. This document contains detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques over a prolonged period of time. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this detainee and thus would allow hostile agents to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 42 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B35	Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Summarized Witness Statement	28-Feb-05	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and thus to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 43 from the Schmidt-Furrow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B36	Memo	N/A	N/A	Unsigned Interrogation Plan	None stated	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning plan for the interrogation of a specific detainee. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and the assessment and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 44 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B37	Witness Statement	N/A	N/A	Summarized Witness Statement of Major General Geoffrey D. Miller	18-Mar-05	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain information about intelligence sources and methods, detailed information on the interrogation techniques and interrogation plans of specific detainees, and assessments of their effectiveness. They also contain detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process and assessments of its effectiveness. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility. Exemption 3, 10 USC 130c. Some information is exempt as ICRC communications.	Exhibit 45 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B38	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log	21-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 46 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B39	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log	21-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 47 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B40	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log	23-Dec 02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 48 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B41	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Memorandum for Record	23-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 49 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B42	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log	4-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 50 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B43	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Memorandum for Record	4-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 51 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B44	Medical records	N/A	N/A	Excerpts of Medical Records	Dec-02 to Jan-03	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee. Disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information on interrogation and military procedures to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility. Exemption 6 Disclosure of medical information concerning the subject of these records would unreasonably intrude on the detainee's privacy.	Exhibit 52 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B45	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log	6-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 53 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B46	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log	17-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 54 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B47	Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Interrogation Log	17-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and the interrogation plan for this detainee. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and the assessment and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 55 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

INDEX OF DoD DOCUMENTS

ACLU v. DoD

REDACTED DOCUMENTS: SECTION 2 (SCHMIDT-FURLOW EXHIBITS 34 TO 57)

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B48	Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Interrogation Log	27-Dec-02	Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and the interrogation plan for this detainee. Release of this detailed information concerning the interrogation of a specific detainee would cause serious damage to the national security, specifically intelligence activities and methods, as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details regarding the interview process associated with this individual detainee and the assessment and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques.	Exhibit 56 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.

ID	Type	To	From	Subject/Title	Date	Exemption(s)	Remarks
B49	Shift Log Excerpt	N/A	N/A	Shift Log		Exemption One Information redacted from this document is currently and properly classified under Executive Order 12958, as amended, Sections 1.4 (a) and (c), which pertain to military operations and intelligence activities of the United States. Redacted portions of this document contain detailed information on the interrogation of a specific detainee including descriptions of specific interrogation techniques and assessments of their effectiveness. This document also contains detailed descriptions of military operations integral to the detention facility. Release of this detailed information would cause serious damage to the national security as disclosure would allow hostile entities to discover details of the interview process for this individual detainee and assessments and evaluation of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the interview process made by those directly responsible for it. Moreover, disclosure would allow hostile agents to use this information to devise countermeasures to counter interrogation techniques and the military operations required to run the detention facility.	Exhibit 57 from the Schmidt-Furlow Report.