DETAILS

BASIS FOR INVESTIGATION: About 0600z, 17 Sep 03, CPT [REDACTED] SJA, 1 BCT, reported that SPC [REDACTED] of HHC, 1/36th Infantry, 1st Armored Division, Baghdad, Iraq, may have committed a law of war violation when he threatened an Iraqi detainee in the custody of US Forces. b7C-3, b6-3

About 0800z, 20 Sep 03, SA [REDACTED] this office, obtained a sworn written statement from SFC [REDACTED] (Exhibit 2) [REDACTED] HHC, 1/36th Infantry, 1st Armored Division, Baghdad, Iraq, who stated that he was the NCOIC of the S-2 section. Neither he or SPC [REDACTED] are trained interrogators, nor were there written policies or procedures for interrogating prisoners. b7C-1, b6-1

About 0900z, 20 Sep 03, SA [REDACTED] this office, obtained a sworn written statement from SSG [REDACTED] (Exhibit 3), [REDACTED] HHC, 1/36th Infantry, 1st Armored Division, Baghdad, Iraq, who stated that he was in the room and witnessed SPC [REDACTED] threaten to shoot Iraqi civilians. SSG [REDACTED] stated he never observed any Iraqi civilian touched, harmed, or have a weapon pointed at them. b7C-1, b6-1

Characteristics of the Crime Scene: This incident took place in one of the many buildings on the compound occupied by 1/36th Infantry. SA [REDACTED] was informed that this compound had been a university and many of the buildings are two story dormitories. Many of the one-story buildings were used as classrooms. The building that this interrogation occurred in is a one story, L shape building. This building is close to the main entrance. The two portions of the "L" are separated by a solid wall, and must be accessed separately. To access the area in which the interrogation took place it is necessary to enter a small room. In walking through this room you enter a long north south hallway. There are a number of rooms to the west side of the hallway, and windows on the east wall of the hallway. The interrogation took place in the third room from the north end.

Condition: SA [REDACTED] found that the interrogation room had a small table and three steel folding chairs. There is no other furniture in the room. The area is not air-conditioned. There are electrical lights within the area. The floors are dusty, but reasonably clean. The door to the interrogation room appears to be home made, and does not lock. There is a window in the far west wall of the room, but the window is covered with bars. The bars prevent access through the window. The room is approximately 12' x 15'. It appears that this may have been a small classroom, or dorm room. b7C-1, b6-1

Scene examination: About 1130z, 20 SEP 03, SA [REDACTED] examined the interrogation room. There were no signs of a struggle within this room. There are no indications of blood on the floor or walls. There is no damage to the walls. There are no restraint devices present within the room, on the wall, or on the chairs. SA [REDACTED] was unable to locate any signs of bullet holes in the b7C-1, b6-1

I, [redacted] want to make the following statement under oath:

I am the NCOIC of the S-2 shop; I became aware of an alleged impropriety last week when MAJ [redacted] came here. My boss informed me that [redacted] and [redacted] might be under an AR 15-6 Investigation. I asked what it was about and was told, that it involved some of [redacted] alleged interrogations. After I was told a time line I looked at the schedule and figured out what he was talking about.

Q. What is your MOS?

A. 11B

Q. Do you have any formal training in the S-2 section?

A. No. Just OJT.

Q. Do you interrogate prisoners here?

A. No. We do screen them. We photograph them for our database, and try to sort to names and address, and get correct information from these people so that when they go to the BSA they don't get kicked back.

Q. Is there as SOP on interrogating prisoners?

A. No. We have a sheet that we keep at the front gate for the sources that come walking in. That is the only thing we have in writing that pertains to questioning locals.

Q. Do you know what SPC [redacted] MOS is?

A. 96 B, intelligence analyst.

Q. Is there is there anything else that you would like to add to this statement?

A. Yes. [redacted] is a meek and mild guy. I was really surprised that he was being looked at for doing anything improper with a detainee. He is a complete passéfest, completely.

Q. Is there anything else you would like to add?

A. No, That's about it.

I, [redacted] want to make the following statement under oath:

We had been in sector 15 rounding up prisoners. I was tasked with bringing them back to the Battalion area. I dropped off 13 prisoners, 11 males and 2 females. We would end up taking only four to the 501st FSB. When I dropped them off at the Battalion they were taken into a room one by one to be interrogated. I went to fill out the paper work for the arrest. When I came back from filling out the arrest report I asked SPC [redacted] if we were done, he said no. I then asked him how long and he stated pretty quick, so I just sat outside for a while. I then went to the interrogation after short period of time and asked [redacted] is he was done yet. He said almost, but he wanted to speak to them again real quick. I walked out and before a half hour was up I walked back in. A M-16 magazine was on the table. [redacted] was asking the detainee what he knew. [redacted] stated he didn't believe him. He told the detainee that if he (the detainee) didn't tell him [redacted] something that he would have the other guy in the room shot him. The detainee had a round in his hand. [redacted] had the detainee hand the round to the other guy, and they both walked outside. The next guy came in and [redacted] handed him a round. I got up and left. I walked outside. I told a couple of people outside what was going on, and that I didn't think it was right. After a little while [redacted] came out and said the last two guys had given him information. That the last two guys would take them to the guys that throw the grenade. At that point he started talking about how he had them on their knees. That he poked one of them in the back of his head, the detainee wiggled out. Shortly after that we loaded them up and moved out.

Q. Who was the other soldier in the room?
A. Either PFC or SPC [redacted] b7c-4, b6-4

Q. Did you see either [redacted] or [redacted] point a weapon at these detainees? b7c-4,5 b6-4,5
A. No sir. b7c-5, b6-5

Q. What did [redacted] poke the detainee in the back of the head with?
A. He gestured that it was his finger. He showed what he did as he said the guy wiggled out.

Q. Did you see the detainees after they came out of the room?
A. Yes Sir.

Q. Where they injured, upset, or appeared to have been abused?
A. No sir. When I was there the one prisoner said that if he was going to be shot for doing nothing, he didn't care. They were upset about being taken out of their home in the early morning.

Q. Did you ever see [redacted] or [redacted] strike any detainees? b7c-4,5 b6-4,5
A. No sir.

Q. Did you hear or see any threats.
A. Yes. I heard the sound of a weapon chambering a round.

Q. Was that a M-16?
A. Yes sir.

I, [REDACTED] want to make the following statement under oath:

The battalion commander had been looking for better insertions. It appeared that he had been on the S-2 to try to get better intelligence. I could tell that CPT [REDACTED] was stressed out about this. We started bringing detainees to the Battalion area, questioning them and taking their pictures. Part of the reasoning was to build a profile of criminals, and to see if we were arresting the same people, over and over again. We had questioned numerous people and always got the same information which was that they knew nothing or saw nothing. We learned that the Iraqis would not give up any information unless they were caught in a lie or trick into giving up the information. People had suggested different ways into tricking the Iraqis into giving information. One suggestion was to put sand bags into a body bag and carry it out of an interrogation room. On this particular night I had heard over the radio that a raid had been conducted in a sector of our AOR. The initial report was that they were bringing in 30 prostitutes. They ended up coming into the camp with two females and thirteen guys. I thought that this was a raid in response to a recent grenade attack we had. I began questioning people about the grenade attack. I brought them all in and took their picture, and asked them about the grenade attack. They all denied any knowledge. I then asked the informant who pointed out two people out of the photos I had taken. They were brought back in individually. I spoke separately to these two guys. I placed a bullet on the table. I eventually made him hold it. I would not let him put it down. I told him that was the bullet that would kill him if he didn't talk. They continued to deny any knowledge of the grenade attack. I pointed to SPC [REDACTED] and told them that he would kill them if they lied. I told them that they were lying to me and made [REDACTED] start to walk one outside. I told him it was his last chance. He told [REDACTED] was the one that did the grenade attack. I then questioned the second guy separately, but using the same tactic. He also named [REDACTED]. These two guys had no chance of getting a story together to use the name [REDACTED]. The both used the same name separately; making me feel like my tactics worked. I brought them both back in together, and accused them of getting a story together. I told them that I'd had it with them. I had them both kneel down with a bullet in their mouth. I told them to keep their eyes closed; I took a bullet out of their mouth. I then had [REDACTED] charge his weapon. There were no rounds involved, and the weapons were not loaded. I told them this was their last chance. They both stated [REDACTED] I said OK. They were taken outside. They both were taken back out with the Scouts and showed the scouts where [REDACTED] lived. This was so we could do surveillance on [REDACTED]. I have no idea of what happened with that information.

Q. Are you a school-trained interrogator?
A. No, I'm not.
Q. Did anyone tell you to use this method of interrogation?
A. No.
Q. How did you come up with this method of interrogation?

A. I thought that tricking the [redacted] was the only thing that worked. I linked the whole ideal of the body bags. I could not shoot off any rounds, and this was the only thing I could come up with. I see TV shows where the police always trick people. In fact I remember reading the Supreme Court saying that tricking someone was OK.

Q. Did you hurt any of these detainees?

A. No.

Q. Did you point a weapon at them?

A. No.

Q. Did you physically touch them?

A. No. Just to move them from one point to another because they were zip tied.

Q. Do you have any written interrogation guidelines?

A. No.

Q. Are there any restrictions on your interrogation techniques, either implied, or directed, that you are aware of?

A. No.

Q. What are the rules of engagement?

A. I thought that they applied to ground combat operations. I think about that movie with Meg Ryan and Denzel Washington, Rules of Engagement. Also, [redacted] was a PFC, I was the specialist. He was following my orders. All I had him do was create the sound of a weapon charging. He didn't do anything else.

Q. Is there anything else you would like to add to this statement?

A. No that's it

I, [REDACTED] b7c-5, b6-5 want to make the following statement under oath:

I usually work with [REDACTED] on the night shift. The night of this incident the unit had brought in eleven males and two females. We were questioning them in regard to a grenade attack that had occurred on one of our convoys. We were also told that there was an informant among them. We questioned the informant who pointed out two people who may have information. [REDACTED] questioned them, separately. He got to a point that he felt that they had information, but were not giving it up. We were talking to them sepearately. [REDACTED] pulled me outside and told me he was going to question them some more, and at a time that he designated he wanted me to slide my bolt forward to presser them into talking. I did that when he told me to. They ended up talking to us. They named a ring leader of a local gang that was teroizing local people. Also, this guy was either housing or knew who was housing the people who were conducting assaults on US Forces.
