Summary of new complaint for your review:

On March 24, 2011, the Michigan Chapter of the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR) wrote to CRCL that American Muslims crossing the border are subject to extensive questions about their religion and religious practices.

CAIR states on behalf of an anonymous citizen of Somali origin, that alleged that May 25, 2010 at the Windsor-Detroit Bridge Authority she was subjected to intensive and humiliating personal search by a female officer. She alleges the only question CBP asked her was where she was headed. In addition, allegedly, several Somali's mentioned that they heard CBP Officers in the booths ask each other, "are we still pulling over the Somalis?" On January 20, 2008, allegedly, a CBP Officer informed the complainant that she had no rights at the border and that she couldn't return to Canada until CBP was done with her.

Thank you.
