[REDACTED] engaged in limited conversation, stating he would not answer any questions because he feels he has been mistreated. When asked how he has been mistreated, [REDACTED] replied he felt like an animal having to be moved in chains. It was explained to [REDACTED] the use of the chains was not something the interviewers could control, that it was a military policy. However, it was pointed out to [REDACTED] the interviewers did have his hands removed from the chains once he was in the interview room. [REDACTED] expressed he does not distinguish the difference between the interviewers and the military personnel because they all work for the U.S. government.

[REDACTED] stated he would be willing to cooperate if conditions in the camp were to improve. When questioned as to what he would like to see improved [REDACTED] could not provide an answer. [REDACTED] did request legal counsel, at which point the interviewers explained that, under his current conditions, he was not entitled to legal counsel.
