Re: Recommendations on the U.S. Asylum System for Immigration Reform Legislation

Dear Member of Congress,

This country has a long history of global leadership in protecting persecuted refugees and displaced persons. We believe that immigration reform legislation must include key changes to the U.S. asylum system to better ensure that refugees who seek the protection of the United States are afforded meaningful access to a fair, effective and timely asylum adjudication process. Together, as 162 faith-based groups, refugee protection organizations, and legal experts on the U.S. asylum system, we urge the U.S. to take steps to ensure that the U.S. asylum system reflects U.S. values and commitments to protecting the persecuted. We support the recommendations listed below for inclusion in immigration reform legislation, many of which were proposed in the Refugee Protection Act (RPA) of 2011 (S. 1202 and H.R. 2185).

Congress should support inclusion of the following changes in immigration reform legislation to repair the U.S. asylum system:

1. Eliminate the wasteful and unfair asylum filing deadline that is barring refugees with well-founded fears of persecution from asylum and diverting overstretched adjudication resources.¹ This change is included in RPA Section 3. In connection with this legislative change, permit individuals who, due to the filing deadline, were granted withholding of removal but not asylum, to adjust their status to lawful permanent resident and petition to bring their spouses and children to safety.

2. Require and support a fair and efficient adjudication process authorizing legal representation in particularly vulnerable and complex cases, including for children, persons with mental disabilities and vulnerable immigrants in immigration detention, authorizing increased Immigration Judges and other staffing at immigration courts, requiring all asylum claims to be initially adjudicated at the asylum office level, and mandating that EOIR’s Legal Orientation Program is provided in all facilities that detain immigrants for ICE for more than 72 hours. Related proposed changes are included in RPA 2011 Sections 10 and 13.

3. Protect refugees from inappropriate exclusion and free up administrative resources by amending INA §212(a)(3)(B) so that it targets actual terrorism and does not exclude bona fide refugees. Specifically, the “terrorist activity” definition should be limited to the use of armed force against civilians and non-combatants, as proposed in RPA 2011 Section 4, and the definition of a “Tier III” organization should be eliminated. The definition of “material support” should be revised to specify that the term applies only to support that is quantitatively significant and qualitatively of a nature to further terrorism.

4. Implement lasting immigration detention reforms to protect detained individuals, including asylum seekers, and reduce unnecessary costs through expanding cost-effective alternatives to detention, immigration court review of detention decisions, strengthened oversight and compliance mechanisms, and standards and conditions in line with the American Bar Association’s proposed civil immigration detention standards.\(^2\) Congress should also mandate a study on the expanded use of the expedited removal process to ensure that refugees are being not returned to persecution. Related proposed changes are included in RPA 2011 Sections 10 and 13.

5. Ensure adequate substantive and procedural safeguards for all child asylum seekers, given their vulnerability. Measures should include giving the Asylum Office initial jurisdiction over applications of principal child asylum seekers, employing a child centered analysis to their claims, and – as proposed in the RPA 2011 Section 15 - exempting them from such bars as Safe Third Country, previous denial of asylum, and the one year filing deadline (provisions already enjoyed by unaccompanied children).

6. Ensure that gender-based asylum claims are properly recognized by supporting legislative clarifications proposed in the RPA 2011, Section 5, especially the provisions clarifying what can constitute a “particular social group” (the statutory ground under which many women’s asylum claims are brought), what kinds of evidence can support such claims, and other clarifications needed to remove obstacles currently posed to gender-based claims.

7. Ensure that asylum-seekers interdicted in international or U.S. waters are not subjected to refoulement by requiring that all U.S. authorities taking control of irregular maritime vessels in international or U.S. waters make available to irregular boat migrants the opportunity to apply for asylum or to express a fear of persecution and shall refer any such asylum-seeker to a U.S. asylum officer for an interview according to INA 235(b)(B); and requiring that all authorities patrolling the U.S. borders, including the U.S. Coast Guard, receive effective training from UNHCR on international human and refugee rights and on U.S. domestic asylum law and other forms of protection. Related proposed changes are included in RPA 2011 Section 24.

We look forward to working with you and your staff and would like to respectfully request a meeting with you at your earliest convenience to discuss these recommendations further. Sara Jane Ibrahim, Advocacy Counsel at Human Rights First, is our focal point and can be reached at ibrahims@humanrightsfirst.org; 202-370-3318. Thank you for your attention to our views.

Sincerely,
