Subject: TF 6-26 Update

b1

Several days ago a detainee arrived to the Temporary Holding Facility (THF) from one of the outstations. The outstations are used to gain tactical intelligence from detainees immediately after they are captured by the military, and are usually held there for several days. The outstations are manned with their own interrogators and interpreters. Upon arrival to the THF, all detainees are screened by medical personnel and biometric information is collected. The detainee that arrived several days ago appeared to have marks (burns) on him that seemed suspicious. When questioned about the marks, the detainee stated that he had been tortured by his captures. Immediately this information was reported to the TF 6-26 Chain of Command, and there is currently a military 15-6 investigation initiated. This information was shared with all members working at the THF (military, FB [Redacted] DHS) and all were reminded to report any indication of detainee abuse. Additionally, we were told that this incident is being handled by the Chain of Command. I will provide further updates as they are shared with me.
