For your information

I have been working closely with the Office of Military Commissions (OMC) in facilitating the FBI's role in the upcoming prosecutions. Working in concert with Counterterrorism Division's Military Liaison and Detainee Unit, I have been reviewing requests for documents in OMC's discovery process as well as reviewing their witness lists and attending witness preparation sessions with FBI witnesses.

Currently two individuals currently detained here at Camp Delta have been formally charged in the Tribunal process. Review of the witness lists has revealed that the prosecutors intend to rely heavily on the testimony of FBI Agents to prove their case. These cases are likely to be very high profile and from all appearances the FBI will be playing a major role, quite possibly a leading role.

The first arraignment is scheduled to take place here at Guantanamo Bay on April 9, 2004.

Attached please find OMC's formal request for FBI discovery support for these first two cases. Also find attached the charging documents for these individuals.

I am currently working on said plan - I have met with and briefed RMD and have a tentative plan that I will forward to you (ASAP) That plan was created in anticipation of this request, so it needs to be reworked to fit the actual request I believe their (OMC's) target date to be totally unreasonable

MDLU already has a file created for OMC requests I will confer with my MDLU counterpart, who arrives on tomorrow's flight to determine if that file is specific to discovery issues If you prefer an OGC file I will start the process for opening it

I look forward to our 1400 (I mean 2pm) phone conference (this whole military thing is really starting to permeate my thought processes)

Sincerely
Your man in Cuba,
