MEMORANDUM FOR Commander, 3RD Brigade, 1ST Armor Division, Camp Taji, Iraq, APO AE 09378

SUBJECT: Investigation of Escalation of Force Incident Occurring in the Taji Market Area on 2 November 2005

2. Specific Areas

A) Sequence of events
A patrol of M1114s from 1/A/1-320 had turned west onto RTE Raiders from a north-south running road. The intersection was at the far west edge of Taji market. The lead vehicle had made the turn and was heading west when the vehicle in question, a black sedan with a single occupant, was first seen heading east in the middle of the road. The vehicle showed no signs of slowing and witness statements indicate that its speed was 40-50 miles per hour. Upon visual acquisition of the fast approaching vehicle the TC,

As the vehicle continued its approach, the likelihood that it had not identified the coalition patrol decreased, while the chance that it was suicide VBIED consistently increased. When the vehicle braked after the warning shot, it lost traction and skid from the middle of the two lane road to the east bound shoulder. At this point the vehicle had passed the lead vehicle and was oriented toward the second vehicle. Shouted in English along with his limited

D) Lessons Learned

In hindsight, it was clear that the local LN driver felt that after the slowed down to the initial warning shot, he would then be permitted to continue moving. As such, he had been trained to move after the initial warning shot, which he did not do. The entire population is familiar with how to behave in a vehicle around a coalition forces.

The terrorist attack occurred on 18 September 2005, not two months prior. VBED attack hours throughout MND-B, and this specific area of Telil Market was the site of a suicide VBED attack on 18 September 2005, not two months prior.
1. De-escalation of force is an important aspect to identifying neutral and enemy elements on the Iraqi battlefield. The issue of dealing with oncoming threat vehicles is especially difficult to handle because of how rapidly a decision must be made as to how and when to escalate force. Once force is escalated, the reactions of the element in question must be instantly reassessed by all coalition forces involved, but the ultimate estimation lies on the leader. If a neutral element reacts appropriately to force escalation and changes its behavior so as to CLEARLY remove hostile intent from the perception of the coalition, than all is well. However, the local national element does not react in a way that completely erases doubt, than it continues to be a threat. At this point, every action taken by Soldiers must be prepared to de-escalate force as quickly as they are trained to escalate. This constant reassessing and reevaluation of the situation lies at the leader level so that soldiers can trust that there is a cause to their actions.

E.) Conclusion

It is my finding that there is no fault or violations on the part of the soldiers involved in the incident. The vehicle clearly exhibited signs of a possible VBIED by approaching at location (intersection while the patrol was executing a turn) where the patrol was vulnerable, and by not reacting appropriately to escalation of force procedures. This unit and all units need to ensure that all leaders and soldiers understand how to escalate force and what factors to take into consideration for de-escalating force.

LINE 6: SUMMARY: A 1/A/1-320 FAR Patrol was moving West on RTE RAIDERS and identified a Black sedan traveling East on RTE RAIDERS toward them. The black sedan did not pull off to the side of the road or stop. The Gunner in the lead vehicle, SGT, stood up and waved his red STOP paddle at the oncoming vehicle. The vehicle continued to travel toward the patrol at a high rate of speed. The gunner identified the driver as the only occupant and reported him as military age and clean-shaven and unresponsive to his commands. The gunner continued to wave his arms and the STOP sign at the vehicle.

The lead vehicle TCP on the front TC side and rear TC side passengers dismounted and approached the oncoming vehicle which had slowed down as it went around. TCP then to the on coming vehicle driver and gestured and yelled for the vehicle to stop. The oncoming vehicle accelerated back onto the road oriented directly to the second vehicle in the patrol.

EOD arrived and inspected the disabled vehicle. EOD reported wires in the driver compartment of the vehicle and informed the patrol not to attempt to remove the driver, who appeared to be deceased at this time. EOD executed a small "booby" charge on the trunk ICT inspect the trunk for explosives. When this charge detonated, it ignited the car's fuel tank and caused it to burn. 4-1 FA then took control of the scene. An AR 15-8 Investigating officer has been appointed by the 3/1 AD Commander. The 3/1 AD Commander has also directed that a condolence payment be made to the family at 030930NOV05 by the 4-1 FA Commander, who is responsible for this AO.

LINE 7: Injuries or damage to government and/or civilian property: The on-coming vehicle was destroyed and the driver was killed.

LINE 8: Commander Reporting:
On 2 November, at or around 0700, I led my platoon of 4 M1114 HMUWs and 19 soldiers out of Camp Taji to relieve a platoon of A/1-320 who had been on a 48 hour IET mission. I had just turned west onto route Raiders when I spotted a car speeding east towards my convoy. Almost immediately after, my gunner and driver saw the vehicle. The vehicle was within 50 meters and slammed on his brakes. The car swerved to the right (our left) and had slowed to 5-10 mph when I exited my truck. By the time I got behind my truck the car was already past (in the shoulder) and still moving.
9. STATEMENT (Continued)

By this time, I was beside me and I saw that the car was not stopping and instead moved back onto the road and started to accelerate. I knew engaged first and the vehicle was on the road again and accelerating. After I gave the command to engage, my soldiers eliminated the threat by first shooting the engine then when the car kept moving targeted the driver. Once the driver was directly engaged the car stopped. The actions taken subsequently by the driver only increased my suspicions. I take full responsibility for my and my soldiers' actions.
